1. Pixel Poetry

Image 1

The first page I selected is Pixel Poetry couse I like the retro vibes it gives me. The design is very clean and easy to understand and use. It guides you step by step to publish your poems and you can see what other authors have made in a cool cinematic that seems like an old videogame intro.

2. 099

The second page that I liked the most was 099. I like the simplicity of this design. All is squared and aligned, and have a limited colour palette made of dark tones. All of this combined with the font that remember a computer letter works pretty good together. The transitions are smooth.
